

young voices winter workshops

WordPlay Writing Workshop

March 15, 3 – 5 p.m.
Cedarbrae Library
545 Markham Road
Ages 12-19

Re-discover the fun of writing at a hands-on workshop with Toronto fiction author Karen Krossing. With fresh and inspiring story-starters, you'll dive into new characters and create captivating scenes. Come spark your imagination and enjoy playing with words while learning creative writing techniques.

Please register at 416-397-5970, or ksparling@torontopubliclibrary.ca

Karen Krossing is addicted to stories. She began to create stories when she was eight, and she continued this habit by writing poetry in high school. By then she was hooked on books, so she studied English at university then became a book editor and a copywriter. Today, Karen writes novels and short stories for children and teens and her latest book is The Yo-Yo Prophet. She lives in Toronto and is an editor of Young Voices Magazine. For more about Karen, visit karencrossing.com.

Get Published! We want your writing, artwork and photography for Young Voices Magazine! Submit online torontopubliclibrary.ca/youngvoices/ Submit artwork in person at any library branch in Toronto. Deadline for submissions: March 31, 2012

torontopubliclibrary.ca